—The Prohibition club meets at Good Templars hall to-night.

—The ladies' chorus will meet for stago rehearsal of Ginevra, this evening at Lappin's hall.

—Wisconsin Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., occupy Old Fellows hall this evening—regular weekly meeting.

—The "pasta brigade" of the great Barnum show will be in Janesville tomorrow, billing the city for the exhibition the 19th of August next.

—The resignation of O. S. Jackson as a member of the fire police was accepted last evening, and the vacancy filled by electing Victor Richardson as a member of the company.

—A party of little people enjoyed a moonlight ride and a feast of ice cream and cake last evening, their hosts being Miss Hattie Carpenter, the little daughter of Alderman Charles Carpenter, of the first ward.

—The young ladies' Cooking club, and a few of their invited friends were pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Don Merrill at the residence of her parents, the Hon. and Mrs. Hiram Merrill, last evening. Cards formed the principal diversion and much amusement resulted from some of the comical features of the games.

—We are informed that as the result of special meetings recently held in Johnston, the Congregational church received last Sabbath an accession of eleven members. Of these three were by letter and the rest on profession of faith. Seven were heads of families and the other four young unmarried ladies.

—East Milwaukee street, between Bluff and Division streets, is blocked to-day by the removal of one of the old buildings from the site of the street car barns. The building has been pulled out into Milwaukee street, and the movers are now swinging it around into the street so that it can be moved around the corner on a bluff street lot.

—The family of Water Commissioner M. M. Phelps, is in mourning because of the death of "Tex," the dignified canine that has made Mr. Phelps' residence his home for almost fifteen years. The Fourth of July was too much for him; and after enduring a dignified protest at the noise and confusion, he became disgusted and died. The funeral was strictly private.

—The Waukesha Freeman: "The sixth suit under the pharmacy law came up the other day before C. S. Hawley, Esq., being entitled State of Wisconsin vs. Walter McWilliams, of Eagle. The offense was keeping a drug store and having no registered person in charge. McWilliams was fined $30 and costs amounting in all to $58.00. The state board are active in prosecuting all persons who violate this law."

—While Michael Donohue was recovering from his fourth of July celebration last night he thought it would be a good idea to scare his family by pretending to commit suicide. With this end in view he took a sickle and stuck the point of it into his neck deep enough to cause the blood to flow freely. He was not seriously hurt, however, and it is believed will be more careful about such practical jokes in future.

—At the Jackson street fire last Monday morning, a seventy-fourth representative of the fire police claims the honor of taking the first water. He says he wasn't obliged to go to the river or first ward cistern either. A tub of fresh water conveniently located was mistaken for a revolving chair, and when he quietly sat down the cooling fluid filled up his pistol pockets and drowed out over the top of the receptacle, the foreman of the squad respectfully suggested that it was a poor time to be loafing around a wash tub.

—Messrs. L. B. Carlo and G. M. Hancock are canvassing for signatures to the petition for the Evansville cut-off, and are meeting with very flattering success. In soliciting the first one hundred and thirty-eight names, eight refused to place their names on the petition. To-day Mr. Carlo informed us that only about one in ten refused to sign the petition, and the canvassers had seen representatives of all classes. They anticipate very little difficulty in procuring a majority favorable to the building of the "cut-off."

—The Madison Journal says the "Dis-temper" is raging and having in Iowa and portions of Dane county. Three horses have died from the disease in Mill Creek during the past few days, and two more are reported as being in a critical condition from the disease, a few miles south of Mazomanie. A number of horses in this vicinity are afflicted with the disease in a mild form. Two of the fire department horses are just recovering from the disease. While we know of several other cases in the city and vicinity, and also of one fatal case in the town of Center. The disease readily yields to proper treatment.

—Yesterday—July 6th—was the hottest day known in Janesville in forty years. The thermometer indicated the temperature at from 100 to 104 degrees in the shade. The temperature at several other points in Wisconsin was the same. When it is known that we have not had a rain since the 14th of May—excepting a light shower on the night of June 12—there is no wonder that the people complain on account of the heat and the dry condition of all vegetation. Pasture lands near the city are almost worthless—the grass being killed and dried up, and stock is beginning to suffer in consequence.

MATRIMONIAL.

There was a joyous gathering of relatives and intimate friends at the home of Mrs. Henry Coppin, Lincoln street, fourth ward, last evening, gathered to witness the wedding festivities which united the lives of Mr. Fred M. Crouse and Miss Minnie L. Coppin, youngest daughter of the hostess. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock, the happy couple being attended by Miss Christa Smith, of Whitewater, as bridesmaid, and Mr. Robert McGill, of Oregon, as groomsmen. The wedding party entered the parlors at the appointed time and while Miss Alice Walker was playing a beautiful waltz on the piano, the Rev. Thomas Walker, pastor of the First M. E. church, read the beautiful ritual service of that church and pronounced the couple husband and wife. Congratulations and a rich wedding feast followed.

The bride was remembered by a large number of her friends who sent tokens of their esteem in the most beautiful and substantial presents.

The groom is a young man well known in this city; for many years he has been a popular clerk in the drug store of R. B. Rasmussen and also with W. M. Eldredge and has a large circle of friends in Janesville who extend their warmest congratulations to him and his bride, who is also a favorite among the young people of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Crouse went to Milton last evening, taking the night express for Racine, their future home, where Mr. Crouse is now employed in the drug store of Mr. W. R. Kirkley, 405 Sixth street.

Among those present from abroad were Robert McGill, of Oregon; Miss Christa Smith, John McGill and wife, and Mrs. Traubling, of Whitewater; and Mr. Wm. McGill, of Kosciusko.

COURT CASES.

A suit regarding a quarter of an acre of farm land—Drummond's claim—was heard in the circuit court.

The question of the title to a piece of farm land near Clinton has been on trial before Judge Bennett since yesterday. It concerns a strip not over a quarter of an acre in extent and worth about fifty dollars. E. W. Johnson is the plaintiff and the defendant is Cyrus Osborn et al. The case was settled this morning, a decision being rendered for the defendant.

The suit of J. R. Drake against George H. Wedge is now on trial. It is a matter that was appealed from the municipal court. The plaintiff tried to collect a bill for some goods furnished the defendant and to file a counter claim for his commission as agent on some sales which he claims to have made. The municipal court decided in his favor but the case was appealed on the ground that the sales were made direct and that Wedge had nothing to do with them. B. F. Danville and George H. Noyes appear for the plaintiff and Ogden H. Fathers and J. E. Day, Jr. for the defendant.

Personal.

—Mrs. Charles Myers, of Chicago, is visiting in the city, a guest of Mrs. Clint Wilcox, of the second ward.

—J. M. Day, Jr., arrived in the city this morning. His wife is expected either this evening or to-morrow morning.

—Dr. and Mrs. G. G. Chittenden have returned home from an extended visit in the east. During his absence the doctor attended the National Homeopathic convention at Stratford.

—Paymaster Henry T. Wright, of the United States Navy, arrived home last evening, and is warmly greeted by friends.

—Paymaster Wright has recently returned from a long service on the western coast of South America, on board the United States man-of-war Nipsen.

—Waukesha Freeman: E. B. Hancock, secretary of the state board of pharmacy, and Mr. M. G. Jeffries, attorney of the board, were at Waukesha on Tuesday in the interests of the board. Mr. Jeffries is the law partner of Ogden H. Fathers, of Janesville, Wisconsin's favorite young orator.

—The Dubuque Telegraph: The directors of the Dubuque National bank, at a meeting on Tuesday last, elected Mr. T. P. Garvey to the responsible position of assistant cashier. Mr. Garvey has been connected with the bank since its institution, in the capacity of teller, and his promotion is the result of the confidence his faithful service has inspired.

Fairbank's Soap shows the march of progress. It is an improvement over old kinds.

A Little Girl.

Isn't it a good season of the year for the chief of the fire department to inspect the houses which the city is to build several thousand dollars to build, and see if they contain any water. We understand that the one at the Central school building has not been re-filled since the fire in the building adjoining Dale's grocery at the west end of Milwaukee street.

—We are informed by the chief engineer, that as a rule he visits the cisterns every week or ten days, satisfying himself of the condition and quantity of the water therefrom. Regarding the "Central" cistern, the Recorder is misinformed. That cistern was used at the Dale fire, May 19th, 1885, was immediately re-filled. Again at the depot fire, June 25th, and re-filled, and it now has a sufficient supply of water—within a few inches of being full. The fire ward cistern has a good supply of water, but is not full, owing to a leak in the arch; for which the chief is not responsible. The other cisterns have a good supply.

Somebody's Child.

Somebody's child is dying—dying with the wish of hope on his young face, and somebody's mother thinking of the time when that dear face will be hidden where no ray of hope can brighten it—because there was no cure for consumption. Reader, if the child be your neighbor, take the medicine to-day, for the cure is before it is too late. Tell her that consumption is curable; that men are living to-day whom the physicians pronounced incurable, because one thing had been almost destroyed—Dr. Foy's "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured hundreds; surpassed cod liver oil, hypophosphites, and other medicines in curing this disease. Sold by druggists.

Money to Loan.

I can furnish any amount of money on good real estate security at seven per cent. Call at my office, corn exchange square. D. CONGER.

OBITUARY.

Death, and at all times, is doubly so when the victim is a young man, having before him all the joys and hopes of life. It is because of such a death that the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Withington in the fourth ward is to-day filled with sorrow.

The son Orion, or "Orrie," as he was known to his friends and been a sufferer for several years from rheumatism of the heart. For this reason he had been forced to give up a situation in Chicago and return to his home, hoping that the change might prove beneficial. He rallied for a time, but a short time ago his condition became more alarming; and last week he went to Chicago again to consult with some of the leading physicians of that city. After his return he failed steadily but was able to be out of doors until Monday. This afternoon he was sitting on the porch, when suddenly he fell back in the chair and before those in the room realized that he had come, his eyes were closed in the sleep that knows no awakening.

The death is a blow to his parents, such as few can realize. The deceased was a young man of much natural ability, and was one who made friends wherever he went. Those who knew him spoke of him in the highest terms; and the grief that is felt by the members of the bereaved family will be shared by all.

The funeral services have not yet been arranged, as Mr. Withington, who is in Chicago, has not yet arrived.

MARY WEAVER.

At an early hour this morning Mrs. Mary Weaver, residing with Mrs. J. Kirkley, of the fifth ward, passed to her heavenly reward, aged seventy-nine years. Deceased had resided in Janesville for the past twenty years and had made many warm friends who will be saddened at learning of her demise. She leaves a family of nine children, only two of whom reside in this city: two in St. Louis; two in Delaware, Ohio; one in New York; one in Canada and one in Ireland. Deceased was born in County Kerry, Ireland. The funeral will be held to-morrow morning at nine o'clock.

To-morrow Evening.

Haverly's famed minstrel company will appear at Lappin's Music hall to-morrow evening, and notwithstanding the extreme heat, will be favored with a full house. The following is from the Boston Globe:

Minstrelsy, in the sense of a company of rosters traveling together for the entertainment of the people, is, and always has been a very popular kind of amusement. It seems to have more points of contact with human sympathy than any other kind of performance. Negro minstrelsy is essentially an American feature and has come into popular vogue since the war. From more or less accomplished troupes of the past, the art has developed into a multitude of directions, giving scope to every human talent that can move the sympathies of mankind, and finding a place for all branches of the dramatic profession. It is probable that the successful career of Haverly's troupe of to-day has more objects of general interest than any other kind of drama, and as a rule, these troupes draw better and give more satisfaction.

Boston theatre was filled from pit to top last evening in honor of the appearance of Haverly's United American-European minstrels. The show is made up of some of the best talent in the country, and new all through, and has so many commendable points of contact with human sympathy that it is not surprising that it is so popular.
